

The David & Joyce Milne Public Library

Virtual

Winter Programs for Adults

2021

All welcome! Contact us for an invitation to any of the virtual events below. An email address, internet access and a device with audio are necessary to participate. Camera is optional.

Talk: How to Navigate Recent Changes in College Admissions (and What You Can Stop Worrying About Right Now)

Jill Margaret Shulman, College Admissions Coach and Author of College Admissions Cracked: Saving Your Kid (and Yourself) From the Madness

Tuesday, January 12

5:00 p.m.

Workshop: Studying for the SAT - Tips and Tricks

Hannah Sieber, Owner, TriTutoring

Tuesday, January 19

6:00 p.m.

Talk: Voting in 2020: Stabilizing Democracy - Rehearsing a Realignment?

Professor Nicole Mellow, Department of Political Science, Williams College

Wednesday, January 27

4:00 p.m.

♥ Blind Date with a Book ♥

February 1st - 28th

Go on a 'date' with a book you've never met before

Webinar: Early College Planning

Jonathan Hughes, Massachusetts Educational Financing Authority (MEFA)

Wednesday, February 3

7:00 p.m.

Workshop: Chair Yoga, No Experience Required!

Natasha Judson, Tasha Yoga

Thursdays, February 18 and 25, March 4 and 11

4:00 p.m.

Discussion: Frederick Douglass: Activist, Political Thinker, Prophet of Freedom

Professor David Blight (Yale University), Pulitzer Prize-winning author of Frederick Douglass: Prophet of Freedom, with Professor Neil Roberts (Williams College), author of A Political Companion to Frederick Douglass

Wednesday, February 24

4:00 p.m.

Talk: Talented Daughter of a Famous Father: Margaret French Cresson

Dana Pilson, Curatorial Researcher, Chesterwood

Monday, March 8

7:00 p.m.

Book talk: The Most Decorated Unit in U.S. Military History: Writing Repentance and Exploring the Remarkable History of the 442nd Regimental Combat Team

Dr. Andrew Lam, MD, Author of Repentance

Wednesday, March 24

4:00 p.m.

Visit: milnelibrary.org for more details

Email: kbingemann@cwmares.org with any questions, and to receive an invitation to the programs

All programs are paid for by the Friends of the Milne Public Library.

